Missions News

We tell missionaries to “work themselves out of a job” by training local people in all their skills, but we seldom tell local leaders to do the same. “Yet all need to do so, because new leaders need to be formed at all times for the maximum health and growth of the body of Christ. No one can become an effective leader without significant mentoring and modeling.” From Who Needs a Missionary? By Robert Reese

Day School

August 21 ~ Staff Luncheon

August 28 ~ Open House
